

CHINA

Masked and Anonymous: Meet Hong Kong's Army of Protesters

Activists prepare to face off against tear gas and police scrutiny

Updated Oct. 3, 2019 10:22 pm ET

Photographs by Nicole Tung for The Wall Street Journal

On the front lines of Hong Kong's demonstrations are mostly young protesters, who gear up in preparation for weekly clashes with police officers. Gas masks are crucial in protecting against tear gas, which has become commonplace. Authorities are expected on Friday to invoke emergency powers and ban the use of masks by protesters.

READ OUR COVERAGE

- Hong Kong to Invoke Emergency Powers to Ban Masks at Protests
 - Hong Kong Protester Shot by Police as National Day Demonstrations Descend Into Widespread Violence \(Oct. 1\)
 - The Hong Kong Protester's Toolkit for a Cat-and-Mouse Game With Authorities \(Sept. 16\)
 - Hong Kong Protests: From Kill the Bill to the 'Revolution of Our Time' \(Aug. 30\)
 - 'Prepared to Die': Hong Kong Protesters Embrace Hard-Core Tactics, Challenge Beijing \(Aug. 6\)
-

Copyright © 2019 Dow Jones & Company, Inc. All Rights Reserved

This copy is for your personal, non-commercial use only. To order presentation-ready copies for distribution to your colleagues, clients or customers visit <https://www.djreprints.com>.